

ENEMIES BOUND TO DOWN HUGHES

Name Of Secretary Of State Elihu Root Is On Many Tongues.

ROOSEVELT GIVES OUT STATEMENT

Which, Without Assuming To Dictate, Indicates The Wishes Of Administration-Governor's Supporter's Poorly Organized.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The opening hours today found the anti-Hughes forces ready to renew, with unrelenting persistence, their dogged fight to accomplish the governor's defeat. The convention was called to convene at 3 p. m. and delegates arriving on early trains found a very different situation awaiting solution. President Putnam in a plug.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The following official statement was given Elihu Root.

chairman of the convention.
Talk of Secretary Root.
Soon after his arrival Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff of the Republican state committee went to Mr. Root's room and was in conference with him for more than an hour. As they left the room together Mr. Root was told of the rumors connecting his name with the nomination as the choice of the anti-Hughes forces. At first he declined to say a word on the subject.
Pressed for an answer to the direct question, Mr. Root at last said: "Well, you know I am a delegate to this convention from Oneida county. The people up there are all for Hughes."
Where the Opposition Is Weak.
The situation on the eve of the convention is apparently accurately stated in the following words of a county leader bitterly opposed to the re-nomination of Gov. Hughes:
"There are more than enough anti-Hughes votes in the convention, pledged or otherwise, certain to prevent his nomination, and they will prevent it if they can be united for any one else. The leaders opposed to the nomination of the governor are trying to agree on some other candidate. It is possible that they will succeed. The trouble is that they are intensely jealous of each other, each fearing that some other may in some way gain from the agreement they are seeking some special advantage over himself."
Taft to Start Out September 23.
Cincinnati, Sept. 14.—William H. Taft's first campaigning tour will begin Wednesday, September 23, if the candidate's present desires in the matter are observed. Mr. Taft Sunday indicated that he would much like to talk with National Chairman Hitchcock, after Mr. Hitchcock has conferred in Chicago Monday with Senator Dixon and the western managers concerning the proposed itinerary. Mr. Hitchcock will doubtless be asked to come to Cincinnati on his return east.
Maine Election Takes Place.
Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—With the Republicans confident and the Democrats hopeful, and with clearly defined issues of local rather than of national importance, the voters of Maine cast their ballots Monday for governor, congressmen, state auditor, members of the legislature and county officials. In addition they were also asked to accept two proposed amendments to the state constitution, both dealing with the initiative and referendum.
The election of Bert M. Fernald of Portland by at least 15,000 plurality was claimed Sunday night by the Republican leaders, while their Democratic opponents predicted the success of Obadiah Gardner of Rockland, who heads their ticket, by a safe margin.

WOODS FOR NEARLY 100 MILES ON NORTH SHORE OF LAKE SUPERIOR STILL ABLAZE

But Fires Have Temporarily Ceased To Be A Menace To Most Of The Towns Which Were Threatened.

SHORES OF ISLE ROYALE, IN SHOWING LOCATION OF GREAT FOREST FIRES.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 14.—Clouds and an absence of wind gave the Mesaba range a day of quiet Sunday and the forest fires ceased to be a menace in every locality. No rain has fallen and the situation will be serious until moisture puts an end to the smoldering fires and makes the forests of northern Minnesota less like tinder.
Grand Marais, on the north shore of Lake Superior, is considered safe from further invasion by the flames owing to the back fires around the little town.
The woods for nearly 100 miles along the north shore are ablaze and millions of feet of standing timber is still in danger.
Hibbing, Minn., Sept. 14.—It is the common belief of a large element of the population in this section, including many sober-minded citizens, that the forest fires now raging in north Minnesota, Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan are not the result of carelessness, but are the work of a concerted plan of 125 desperate foreigners, who were discharged from the mining region near here, but who were scattered over three states. It is understood by previous agreement they arranged to set these fires in order to get even with the mining company, and it is thought their intention was to wipe out this entire section of forests and many of the towns.
The awful fate of Chisholm and Snowball, in the northern part of Minnesota, are only part of the disaster which has befallen this part of the country. Grand Marais, on the lake, this city and many number of others have only escaped by miracle. Just as the fires approached the outskirts of the city rain fell and checked the flames. Thousands and thousands of dollars have gone up in smoke in the last three days, and the city of Duluth alone has raised $25,000 to relieve the want and deprivation of the range towns. The extensive forests on the shores of Isle Royale, in Lake Superior, have been completely wiped out. This island, though close to the Canadian boundary line, is a part of the United States. It is rich in deposits of copper, and so far removed is it from the usual routes of travel that it is practically without a permanent population. Its many harbors are almost untouched by commerce, and only the temporary homes of sportsmen and hunters rise amid the wilderness of spruce and fir.
The National Guards have been ordered out to protect every route as far as possible, and an investigation is on foot to run down, if possible, any men involved in the deplorable scheme of revenge.

Most of the injured persons are from Indianapolis.

CHANLER IS IN LEAD FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

New York Democrats Meet This Week To Nominate State A Full Ticket.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The feeling of hope and confidence with which the democrats of New York have entered the campaign this year is reflected in the spirit of enthusiasm that pervades Rochester today on the eve of the state convention which will name candidates for governor and other state officers to be voted for at the November election. The city already is filling with delegates and visitors to the convention, the unusually large number of early arrivals affording evidence in itself of the interest and importance that attaches to the gathering this year. The indications are that the convention will be one of the largest in point of attendance that the democratic party has ever held in New York.
The local arrangements for the entertainment of the convention are of the most perfect and elaborate character. When the convention was given to Rochester the Chamber of Commerce took up the work of arranging the entertainment. Evidence of the successful accomplishment of its work is to be seen on all sides today. The downtown section of the city is tastefully decorated. The chief feature of the decorative scheme consists of a number of handsome arches spanning Main street at the principal street intersections. Business houses on both sides of the street are gayly decorated with flags and bunting. Pictures of Bryan and Kern are also prominent.
The announcement that Mr. Bryan will address the convention Wednesday naturally has had the effect of greatly increasing the public interest in the gathering. The presidential candidate will be accompanied to the city by National Chairman Mack and a number of other democratic leaders of widest prominence.
So far as the work of the convention itself is concerned, the interest centers almost wholly in the contest for the head of the ticket. When the convention is called to order, according to all present indications, the delegates will be as much in the air so far as the gubernatorial candidate is concerned as they have been for weeks past. True, the names of several of those who have been mentioned from time to time, such as Alton B. Parker and David B. Hill, have been eliminated from the list, but in the minds of all those who were well informed as to the situation none of these men has been seriously considered for the nomination.
Lieutenant Governor Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler continues to be the most prominent in the field of prospective candidates for the governorship, that is so far as outward signs go. He will be strongly supported by the upstate delegates. His friends declare that on the first ballot he will have at least 125 votes from the up-country districts, which is a large margin of advantage in a convention numbering but 453 delegates.
The name of W. Cary Ely of Buffalo, president of the International Traction company, continues to receive prominent mention. Many of the conservative democrats are inclined to look upon Mr. Ely's candidacy with considerable favor. Martin W. Littleton, third S. Coler, and Mayor Adam of Buffalo also remain among the possibilities.

CATHOLICISM IN ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES

Its History Reviewed By Cardinal Gibbons In Sermon Delivered In London Yesterday.

London, England, Sept. 14.—While it is probably true that the abandonment of the plan to carry the float in yesterday's Catholic procession around Westminster cathedral, in deference to the wishes of Premier Asquith, prevented a disgraceful catastrophe in the ceremony closing the Eucharistic Congress, many of the reports that have been sent broadcast over the world were greatly exaggerated. There was considerable "hoaxing," such as English people use in theatres to express their disapproval of plays and actors, but this was scarcely perceptible amid the cheers of the Roman Catholic sympathizers along the route.
The last day of the congress opened with pontifical mass in the cathedral, which was celebrated by the papal legate, and at which all the Cardinals, Archbishops, and Bishops, and many others of the clergy assisted. The great edifice was crowded, the audience following with rapt attention the sermon of His Eminence James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore who preached eloquently from the following text:
"I say unto you that many shall come from the East and the West, and shall sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven."—Matt. VIII, 11.
Cardinal Gibbons' Sermon.
He extolled it a great honor and privilege, he said, that members of the hierarchy of the United States should unite with their brethren of the British Isles and of the continent of Europe in celebrating this Love-Fest of the Eucharist. His earnest one baptism, one God and Father of all. Yes, our kinship is stronger and more enduring than that which is created by flesh and blood.
"Yes, my brethren, the same faith that Peter preached in Rome, and Paul in Athens, the faith that Augustine brought to England, and Patrick to Ireland, the faith that Boniface preached in France, and that your own Boniface taught in Germany, the same faith that Columbus carried to America, this is the faith that is announced to you and to us from January to December: Jesus Christ, yesterday and today, and the same forever."

5,000 GATHERED

AT YOST'S PARK

LARGEST CROWD ON RECORD

TURNED OUT YESTERDAY

FOR THE MUSICIANS' PICNIC

Field Events and Baseball Game in

Morning—Massed Band of 100

Pieces Played at 3 P. M.

Despite a threatening sky and an occasional flurry of rain, perhaps the largest crowd that ever gathered at Yost's park assembled there yesterday for the musicians' picnic inaugurated under the auspices of the Janesville, Beloit and Rockford bands. Interurban cars and trailers with passengers "hanging on by their eyebrows" began to arrive early in the morning and by afternoon fully 5,000 people were on the grounds. Over 700 made the trip from Janesville. There were 100 instruments in the "massed band" which commenced at 3 p. m.

gave splendid program lasting an hour and a half. Besides the players from the interurban elkos, Waukesha was represented by an automobile band of hand-men who arrived with their instruments during the forenoon. During sent four members of a ladies band, and Harbison, Belvidere, Freeport, Broadhead, Madison, and Davis, all were also represented on the platform. Al. Knoff, of Janesville,

Charles Leaver of Beloit, and F. Osborn of Rockford alternately acted as bandmasters, each presiding over the rendition of two pieces. With fair weather, it seems a foregone conclusion that 300 would have participated in the "massed band" feature and that the grounds would not have been large enough to hold the crowd.

Games of the Morning.

The morning hours were devoted to a series of games and field sports which took place on the baseball diamond. Admission fees totaling $200 were paid in by spectators who wished to see the "Beloit Beavers" and the

"Dr. Poppers" of Rockford play baseball and the other events. In a first contest the "Beavers" won 5 to 3.

Janesville won the tug of war with Beloit. Rockford pulled the winner and then proceeded to "put it over"

Rockford also, accepting with becoming modesty, a box of cigars for their victor. Phil Dolberg of Rockford was awarded a silk umbrella as winner of the 100 yard dash for musicians. The 50-yard dash for musicians over 40 years of age was captured by W. N.

Cato of Rockford who was presented with a handsome silver stein. George

L. Hatch was the victor in a ludicrous musicians' running and playing contest which required the contestant to scamper in perfect time with an instrument which he simultaneously played. He was awarded a gold pin.

In a needle-threading contest Mrs.

F. Osborn of Rockford won a silver thimble. Mrs. Parker of Rockford accepted a handsome hand painted plate for her agility in winning a 60-yard dash for musicians' wives. Miss

Grace Dodge of Rockford won the 60-yard dash for musicians' daughters under 14 years of age, the prize being a pretty necklace.

Mr. Lusk of Janesville won the old-time fiddlers' contest. The prize was a gold-headed cane.

Officers For ensuing Year.

Federation of Musicians' Picnic Association of Northern Illinois and year were:

GOV. DAVIDSON ON

SUBJECT OF ROADS

Believes Constitutional Amendment

Should be Passed to Permit State

to Help Farmers Build Them.

Governor James Davidson is a friend of the Good Roads movement, as evidenced by the following letter which he recently sent to the convention in Milwaukee:

Gentlemen of the State Good Roads

Association:

I regret that I am unable to be with you to tell you in person that I think your association is working along a good line. I think that the subject of better roads is, and should be, of as great interest to farmers and merchants and all classes of people as any other public question that has been brought to their attention for many years.

I think that it is but just and right that the state should help the farmers to pay for the better roads which they need so much. All classes of people will be benefited and all classes should therefore join in paying for the roads that will benefit them. It is not right that the farmer alone should pay the whole cost as he practically does at this time. But I know you believe that the state should do this or you would not be assembled as you are.

I feel that it is necessary that the control of the road building should be left with the people, but I also believe it is necessary that the state of Wisconsin have some sort of supervision over the building. It should do this to insure the people that the money appropriated by the state is expended in such a way that it will do the most good for all. There should be nothing compulsory about building good roads, but wherever any community is progressive enough to want to have creditable roads it should be assisted by the state.

I am familiar with the movement,

and have been for the last fifteen years, and of whatever assistance I can be I will give readily. Let every dollar be properly expended for the best interests of the whole people. I think that it would be wise to increase our road taxes under our present system, for we are wanting too much as it now is. What we must do is to work toward a system in which every dollar will be spent to the best advantage.

In order to accomplish this, this question must be left entirely out of politics, absolutely. The legislature which passes a law for state aid must be very careful, because trouble will result if matters are left so that any member can engineer it so as to help

only the people in his immediate district. The law must be so drawn that the poorest town will be able to take advantage of the bounty of the state, and it must also be so arranged that the strong towns cannot take all the money the state has to offer. There must be a system devised under which

FAST ERIE TRAIN GOES INTO DITCH

THIRTY-FOUR PERSONS HURT IN WRECK AT GENEVA, PA.

NONE IS EXPECTED TO DIE

Chicago to New York Express Strikes Switch Opened by Enemy of Company, Say the Road's Officials.

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 14.—Thirty-four persons were injured early Sunday in the wreck of Erie train No. 4, Chicago to New York express, at Geneva, Pa., a small station eight miles west of here. The wreck, railroad officials believe, was due to enemies of the company opening a switch shortly before the passenger train arrived.

All of the injured were brought to this city and 23 of them were taken to Spencer hospital. Five of these after having their injuries dressed, were discharged during the day, while 18 still remain at the hospital.

Thirty-one of the injured were passengers and three were railroad employees. It is not believed any of the victims will die from their injuries.

Behind Time and Running Fast.
The train is due here at 12:50 a. m., but was about one hour late, and was running over 50 miles an hour. Upon striking the open switch the entire train left the track, the locomotive turning over upon its side. Two of the cars, a combination smoker and baggage and a day coach, were demolished. A majority of the injured were riding in the combination car, being foreign laborers traveling second-class.

The two tracks were torn up a distance of over 100 feet and the work of repairing them was not completed until after midnight. The property loss is $20,000.

Work of Person with Grievance.
Railroad officials assert that they are convinced that the switch was maliciously opened for the purpose of wrecking the train, but think it was done by persons having a grievance against the company rather than for the purpose of robbery. A key was used to open the switch, the lock hanging loose from the bar.

The tracks were used as late as 11:30 p. m. Saturday by freight trains, and officials state there was no occasion to operate the switch between that hour and time of the wreck.

Two Negroes Killed in Wreck.
Sandusky, O., Sept. 14.—Two colored men were killed, another was injured and a white man is missing as the result of a wreck on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, which made kindling wood of 14 freight cars between Huron and Vermillion early Sunday.

Excursion Train in Collision.
Chicago, Sept. 14.—Scores of lives were imperiled and a bad smashup narrowly averted on the Lake Shore railroad early Monday morning. An excursion train filled with Indians was struck in a rear-end collision near Chesterton, Ind. The train had left Chicago about 11:30 o'clock and was overtaken by another train. A number of the passengers, supposed to be residents of Laporte, were injured, but no lives were lost.

Trial of James Is Begun.
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—Trial of Joseph James, a negro, charged with the murder of C. A. Ballard, began Monday. James pleads self-defense, though admitting that he stabbed Ballard to death. The negro crept into the room of Ballard's daughter during the night of July 1. When the girl screamed her father grappled with James and was killed. This tragedy, followed closely by the alleged assault upon Mrs. Earl Hallam by a negro, was largely responsible for precipitation of the recent race riots.

Storm Damages Fishing Craft.
Lisbon, Sept. 14.—A heavy storm is blowing along the Portuguese coast and already has done much damage to fishing craft. Twenty boats, whose crews aggregated 250 men, are missing.

Burglars Enter British Embassy.
Washington, Sept. 14.—Burglars entered the British embassy Saturday night and stole from the room of the housekeeper, Miss Clara Childs, a sum of money, most of her jewelry and a gold watch and chain. Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce are in Europe.

Seek to Disbar C. W. Trickett.
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 14.—Disbarment proceedings against C. W. Trickett, assistant attorney general for Kansas, were filed in the district court of Kansas City, Kan., by C. R. Cooksey, an attorney. There are 15 separate counts in the charge.

Veteran Iowa Editor Is Dead.
Charles City, Ia., Sept. 14.—Jonathan Franklin Wright, the veteran editor of the Daily Press, died here Sunday at the age of 71 years. Mr. Wright came here 54 years ago, and was known as the "Father of Prohibition in Iowa."

Iowa Man Killed in Quarrel.
Marshalltown, Ia., Sept. 14.—During an altercation over the merits of unionism Sunday, Edward Henry, a union carpenter, is alleged to have struck Matthew Skole, a plumber, as a result of which Skole died.

MITCHELL DEFENDS SELF

FORMER LEADER OF MINERS GOES ON THE STAND.

Testifying in Federation Contempt Case, He Denies Intent to Violate Court's Order.

Washington, Sept. 14.—John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers, who, with President Gompers and Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, is charged with contempt of court in the injunction case against the officials for boycotting the Buckle Stove & Range Company, testified in his own defense Sunday before Albert Harper, examiner.

Mr. Gompers also was on the stand several hours, much of his testimony being a retortation of the points developed during the examination of Secretary Morrison Saturday.

Mr. Mitchell, although subjected to a severe test by Daniel Davenport, of counsel for the complainants, was calm and collected throughout. Only once did his composure seem to leave him and that was when his suggestion that J. W. Cleave of the stove company had raised $1,500,000 to disrupt organized labor invited a heated protest from Attorney Davenport. The latter asserted that the idea that such a fund was raised originated in the heated imagination of labor enthusiasts. Mr. Mitchell was plainly annoyed by this rejoinder, but did not voice it in words.

Jackson H. Huston, of counsel for the Federation, however, took from the testimony in the original suit Mr. Van Cleave's statement that in three years he had obtained $1,500,000 for educational purposes, pure and simple.

Much of Mr. Mitchell's testimony related to his movements leading up to the mine workers' convention in January last when a resolution was adopted placing the stove company on the "unfair list" and imposing a fine of five dollars on any member buying the product of the concern. Mr. Mitchell said he took no part in the drafting of the resolution, nor did he have any knowledge of the subsequent distribution of the resolution among the 300,000 mine workers of the country. Mr. Mitchell parried all questions designed to elicit information about the part played by the mine workers' journal in furtherance of the alleged boycott.

"For years I have been followed about the country by detectives," Mr. Mitchell testified in commenting on Davenport's knowledge of his movements. "A greater familiarity about my movements than I have myself shows it was acquired in this manner. I think Mr. Van Cleave is responsible for it."

Generally to all questions Mr. Mitchell disclaimed any intent to violate the court's order.

PLANNED TO KILL PRIEST?

Buffalo Youth Arrested in Polish Seminary at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—Jenior Zborowski, a 19-year-old youth, living at 981 Sycamore street, Buffalo, N. Y., was taken into custody Sunday at the Polish seminary here under circumstances which led to a suspicion that he intended to use a loaded revolver which was in his pocket in attacking Rev. Father Withold Buhaczewski, head of the seminary. A charge of carrying concealed weapons has been preferred against him and the police say that they will lay the case before one of the police justices.

Zborowski attended the seminary here for several years, but last June failed to pass his examinations and was refused a diploma. The young man brooded over his failure after returning to his home and told a friend in Buffalo, the officers at the seminary say, that he intended to come to Detroit and kill Father Buhaczewski with a revolver which he had just purchased. He also, it is said, repeated his threat to Father Szaleczewski, who conferred with Father Alexander Pitas about it. Father Pitas telegraphed from Buffalo to Father Buhaczewski here Saturday that some one who threatened his life would leave Saturday night for Detroit. The police were notified after the telegram was received and arrangements made to have officers detailed in the seminary Sunday. About 9:30 o'clock Sunday before the officers had arrived Zborowski walked into Father Buhaczewski's private office and said: "I want a diploma."

Several of the father's assistants seized him immediately and the police were called.

Rush for Train Is Fatal.
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 14.—Wallace Wilson, aged 27 years, was killed, Stanley Dingo and Frank Gonia were seriously injured, and a dozen others narrowly escaped death Sunday night, when over 100 persons including the victims made a wild rush to board a moving train at Fairhaven, Pa., near here on the Castle Shannon railroad.

Robbed and Beaten to Death.
Milwaukee, Sept. 14.—W. H. Rogers of this city, a traveling representative of the Sholto D. Flowers Company, brokers, was robbed at Ontonagon, Mich., and so badly beaten that he died. He was attacked with a black-jack when on his way to take a boat for Ashland.

Crop Movement Starts Early.
St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 14.—According to the general freight agents of the northern railroads which run through the wheat belt of the northwest, the wheat crop movement has just started, and it is from two to three weeks earlier than last year.

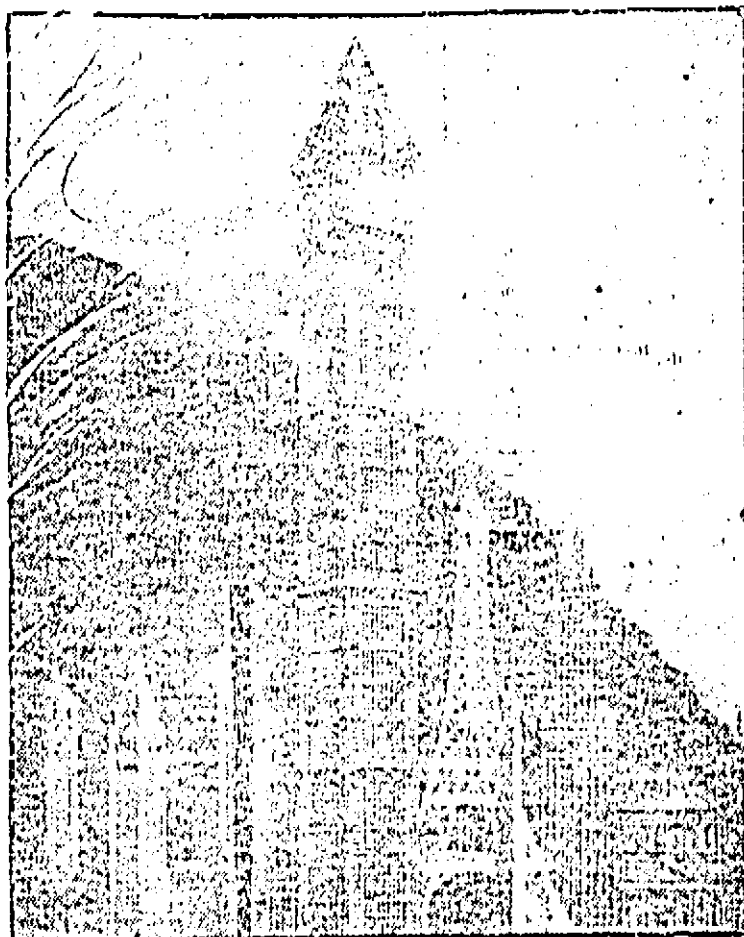

Value of African Peanut.
The African peanut is less delicate than the American as an article of food, but it yields more generously in oil, and is more easily crushed.

WADE H. ELLIS.

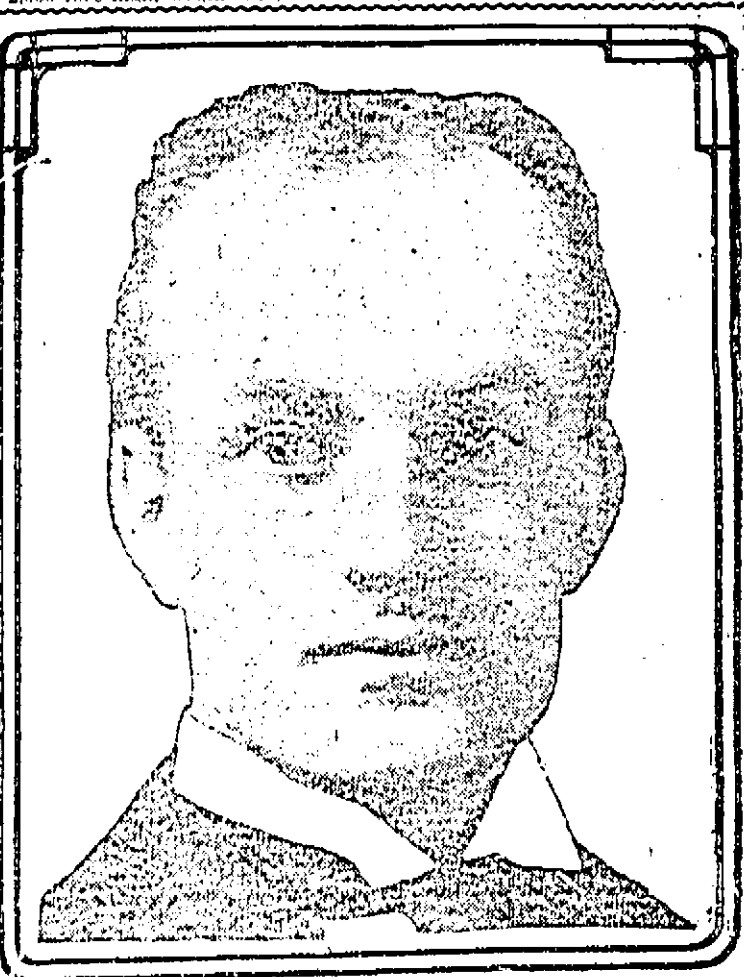

The boss carpenter of the republican platform, which was put together at Washington immediately after Mr. Ellis is at present attorney general of Ohio and his recent appointment high up in the federal department of justice is regarded as presaging his elevation to the attorney general's position in the event of Mr. Taft's re-election to the presidency.

Mr. Ellis will succeed Milton D. Parry, who recently resigned to accept the appointment as a federal district judge in Minnesota.

Reading from left to right the diagram shows the Slager building, Metropolitan building, "Lodestone," a projected 2,000 foot building, Eiffel tower, Equitable building, St. Peter's in Rome, Washington monument, in the background is shown Storm King mountain, which is nearly 1,530 feet high. The prevailing endeavor of the various architects of New York city to outstrip each other in the height of their buildings is shown in the diagram as to where it will stop. According to the building code of New York city the maximum height of any building is 15 tons per square foot. Without exceeding this it would be possible to erect on a lot 200 feet square the huge building shown above. This is 2,000 feet high, weighs 516,500 tons and would cost $80,000,000. The wind pressure would be 6,000 tons. It would take eight times this pressure to overturn the structure. The new Equitable building, which is about 900 feet high, will be the tallest office building in the world and the tallest structure of any kind except Eiffel tower. This is nearly twice the height of the Washington monument and over twice the height of St. Peter's in Rome. It makes the Slager building, which two years ago was supreme in the world for height, seem a dwarf by its side and the Metropolitan, which now holds the record, is overshadowed. Should some enterprising financier build a 2,000 foot building it would be the wonder of all ages, which is not beyond the range of human possibility.

Providence, R. I.—Rhode Island ex-Senator James H. Higgins, the present joy of the distinction of being ruled chief magistrate of the country's smallest commonwealth, is 31 years of age.

A further addition to Governor Higgins' unparalleled record is the fact that he is a democratic executive in a republican state.

OPPOSED TO ALL WASTE

COMMISSION TO DEVISE MEANS FOR PREVENTION.

Schedule for Conducting Inventory of Country's Natural Resources Is Made Public.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The national conservation commission has just made public the first of its schedules on which the inventory of the country's natural resources is being conducted. It is plainly evident from the inquiries being sent out that the commission intends to hunt down waste in all its varied forms and to devise some means to prevent it. This is apparent in the general schedules as to each of the four sections of the commission—waters, forests, lands and minerals.

For instance, the schedule relating to lands inquires into waste of soil by erosion. That schedule also suggests waste through "bad agricultural methods." The lands schedule likewise goes into waste in the carrying capacity of the public range in the west. The section of waters is inquiring into how much land capacity of irrigation is wasted by not being irrigated. More important still is its suggestive inquiries tending to show that we are wasting our waterways to an alarming extent by not using them as we should. Perhaps the greatest form of waste brought out in the entire schedule is that relating to water power. Two of the inquiries are as follows:

"Are existing developed water powers put to their full use?"

"To what extent can coal be saved by the substitution of water power?"

Under the head of flood waters the commission inquires: "To what extent are flood waters wasted?"

The minerals section of the commission is seeking to find out "the nature and extent of waste in the mining, extraction and use of mineral products" and "methods of preventing or lessening this waste."

The commission is conducting a census by correspondence to find the common wastes in the "wood-using industries."

The return from the inquiries will form part of the report of the conservation commission.

Made It a Full Day.
Here is one man who does not limit himself to eight hours of work a day. A farmer in the Hertsford district, Warwickshire, England, created a local record in connection with the hay harvest by working in one field for 24 hours in a single day. He began cutting at 1:30 a. m. and ceased at ten o'clock at night, when the grass was turned.

None Too Early For Suits

Have already received about two hundred suits representative of the latest that the New York market affords and first selections have the advantage of the choicest materials—with plenty of care in the tailoring—in fact this season, the one special feature is to find the lines in the market, which are most elegantly tailored, as the proper suit must show all the new lines and does not depend on trimmings as much as on finish and fit. The various shades of blue are in the lead with browns, greens and the grey shades next in favor. A few of the season's novelty shades are Taupe, Wisteria, Mulberry, Catawba and a number of two-toned effects. These all will be found in our present showing which you are invited to see.

A WANT AD. IS A CHEAP WAY

If the object is worth while make a "campaign" of it. Describe it thoroughly and tell the price.

We had a very interesting illustration last week. One man had a carriage for sale. It was not a carriage, but we will call it a carriage. He advertised, using 3 lines, and said something like this:

"For Sale—Single seated carriage in good condition." Apply Mr. Blank.

He inserted this ad. 3 times, 3 lines 25c, on three different occasions and did not sell it. Then we asked him about the carriage and found that it had new rubber tires, 'was three years old but had not been used much; that it cost $125 and it would sell at $35.00.

We wrote another want ad. and it read something like this: For Sale—Single seated buggy, 3 years old, but has had good care; new rubber tires put on 3 months ago; worth $125.00 when new; will sell for $35.00. Apply Mr. Blank.

This ad. sold the buggy the next day and brought a dozen more inquiries. WHY? Simply, the few more words gave a great deal more information—told what kind of a buggy it was and what it would sell for. I know that this want ad. did the work that Mr. Blank would have been willing to pay $5.00 for. Yet that man would not have thought of getting up a Want Ad. "Campaign" and investing $5.00 in advertising.

The secret of good advertising is this: Tell your story fully, whether it takes 20 words or a hundred, and if three insertions don't get you the returns—use three more and write your want ad. over, using different language. "Campaign" for it.

MR. BRYAN'S BANK HOBBY
Mr. Bryan's popularity was won on the free silver hobby, and is being maintained on a financial banking theory which proposes to guarantee national protection to all bank depositors.

The money behind this protection he proposes to raise by tax on banks and bankers regardless of condition or location. Congressman Hill of Connecticut shows the fallacy and injustice of this proposition, using his own conservative state and the wild and woolly state of Oklahoma as object lessons. The Chicago Tribune in commenting says:

"During the last ten years the depositors with the national and state banks and the trust companies of Connecticut have not lost a cent through the failure of any home bank. The losses of the savings bank depositors were for the ten years $21,300, while the annual deposits were over $200,000,000. Manifestly Connecticut depositors used no guaranty law, but it is easy to see why Oklahoma depositors, for their own benefit, would like to compel the Connecticut banks to contribute to a general guaranty fund."

"The deposits of those banks aggregated $228,000,000 in June, of 1907. Those of the Oklahoma banks were then $26,000,000. They have increased since then, but possibly are not much more than one-eighth of those of Connecticut, though in population the two states are about equal. If the bill introduced in the house by John Sharp Williams and approved by Mr. Bryan were the law the Connecticut banks would have to pay into a guaranty fund $128,000 to begin with, and the Oklahoma banks about $50,000."

"Out of that $128,000 Connecticut would get back in ten years, judging from the experience of the last decade, something like $21,000. In all probability Oklahoma would get considerably more, because bank failures had fair to be more frequent there than in Connecticut. It has 190 banks of all kinds. Oklahoma has 895. Last year it had 232 state banks and now it has 197. While the average capital of its national banks is less than $100,000 that of the national banks of Connecticut is $250,000. The average capitalization of the Oklahoma state banks is less than $11,000.

"There has been an increase in the number of banks in Oklahoma during a year for the greater part of which the demand for money goes to show that the banking business is being overdone in that state. Probably the guaranty law has stimulated in an unwholesome degree the organization of banks. The action of the state banking board in refusing a charter here and there seems to show that it does not quite roll the situation.

"It is easy to see how well pleased Oklahoma, with its string of weak, small banks with too low a ratio of capital to deposits, would be if it could have their depositors protected against the bad management of home institutions by levying taxes on banks in other states which are so well managed that their depositors need no guaranty fund. Where is the equity of such an arrangement?"

SENATOR STEPHENSON
There is more or less talk about legislative interference on the senatorial question, and some doubt is expressed as to the outcome.

The fact seems to be overlooked that the primary law monstrously is the people's law, and while that part of it which applies to United States senators is not legally binding, yet it carries with it a moral obligation which no legislator can afford to ignore.

The primary law contemplates minority rule and the liberal spending of money on the part of candidates, and there is no occasion to criticize on either score. Senator Stephenson received less than one-third the republican votes cast for United States senator, but under the provision of the law he is recognized as the party's candidate, and the legislature will endorse him.

It is too late in the day for men responsible for the law to attempt to ignore it, and had either Hutton or McGovern been successful, no such question would be raised. Senator Stephenson will succeed himself because the primary law, which is the people's law, has so declared.

A WHOLESOME DECISION
The coal-carrying roads of Pennsylvania have been much disturbed by a law passed by congress which prevented them from distributing coal from their own mines for public use.

The law was to take effect the first of July last, but was held up pending a decision of the United States circuit court of eastern Pennsylvania. This tribunal decided last week that the law was unconstitutional, in that it violated the fifth amendment to the constitution which provides that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, except as violators of law.

The matter will, of course, be carried to the supreme court of the United States, but the temporary injunction has restored confidence, and the belief is confirmed that the days of agitation and trial on the platform, are to be succeeded by court investigation, where property rights are usually recognized.

Popular sentiment is an unsafe jury where corporate wealth is at stake, and especially during a long continued era of erratic reform.

Campaign speakers will do well to bear in mind that personal abuse is not argument. "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois, with characteristic bluntness, seems to be out for every head in sight, but he is making no votes for Taft or the party.

President Roosevelt is criticized for sympathizing with the defeat of Congressman Jenkins in the ninth district, and Leonard's friends are inclined to call him to account. Jenkins was a valuable member and should have been retained.

Hard times and a vegetarian diet are said to be responsible for the failure of A. Booth & Co., the greatest fish and oyster house in the world.

There appears to be a slight coolness between Wisconsin senators, due to causes beyond human control. It's a long lane that never turns.

The city of Philadelphia is making extensive preparations to celebrate its 225th anniversary, and relics of all kinds are in great demand.

The state fair was noted for fakes and fakery, and people generally are wondering what the state has to show for its money.

With nothing for a start, Mr. Bryan has done fairly well to accumulate $150,000 under a republican administration.

Aquinaldo appears to be a full-fledged citizen, and aspires to represent his ward as alderman in Manila.

proves the opportunity to take a thrice-rap at some of the lax methods in vogue in the high schools, as follows: "At any rate there are a few things which the university might borrow from the heads of would-be Florida Greeleys. One of them is the gentle art of spelling. The high schools seem to make it a point to ignore the dictionary completely, with the result that a large percentage of the young men and women who graduate forget a great part of what they learned about spelling in the lower grades, while they are studying Latin and Greek in the high school. Besides, the teachers to a great extent have taken up with the Roosevelt, Roosevelt, Roosevelt, every man-for-himself system of spelling which allows the student so much latitude in the use of the alphabet that the business man who takes a graduate into his office sometimes wonders if several of the letters haven't been entirely lost."

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Record Trip from Milton: H. W. Morganthaler of Cincinnati, driving H. O. Falk's Buick car and accompanied by James D. Fletcher, made a flying trip from the corporate limits of Milton to the Hotel Myers this morning on a wager that the trip could not be turned in 12 minutes flat. It covered the distance in 11 minutes and 46 seconds.

Those who attended were: Margaret Birmingham, Nellie Sullivan, Marjorie Boylen, Nellie Gillespie, Stella and Hazel Cullen, Katharine Gaffey, Grace Gillespie, Mary Klein, Margaret, Mabel and Gertrude Hildner and Pearl Gaffey.

Drunkard Converted: Last evening at the regular open air services of the Salvation Army, conducted by Captain Albert Shaw of Rockford, a former drunkard knelt beside the drum and asked forgiveness for his sins. Three drunkards in all were converted Saturday night and Sunday evening, making a total of 63 people who have been helped in this manner, since the first of February.

Formerly Owned Here: "Dixie," the saddle horse now owned by E. H. Hyzer of Milwaukee, which took first in a saddle-horse class at the state fair last week, was formerly owned by Mrs. Roy Wilmer of this city. She sold the horse to a Chicago man and Mr. Hyzer bought the horse from him.

Heart to Heart Talks.

ASHAMED OF FATHER AND MOTHER.
"I'm just ashamed of father and mother when we have company. Father will eat with his knife, and he pours his tea out in his saucer. And they so proud of her! She blows on her food to cool it."

Which was the plaint of a young woman made to one of her intimates. She had recently graduated at a fashionable boarding school. By means of close economy and stifling themselves of many comforts the parents had kept their daughter at the expensive school for several years. Now she was ashamed of them.

Of course father and mother really ought to be a little more careful in conforming to the usages.

But, you see—
Father and mother are growing somewhat forgetful in their old days. Sure, they want to make things pleasant for Mabel, and they take very good naturally the hints about the table manners. And they try. But they lapse. It is pathetic to note father's consternation when he unwittingly pours his tea out in the saucer to cool—right when guests are at table. And once he tried to pour the tea back in the cup, but his old hand trembled, and he spilled the tea.

It is a matter of habit with the old people.
Mother formed that habit of blowing on her food back in the days when the daughter was at school and mother had to hurry with household things. Those were the days of short dinners.

And now—
Well, how should they have known that a fine education would give their girl ways that were not their ways or that it would put their daughter above them, so that in her superiority she would come to look down upon them? It is so very to be hoped they have not yet discovered all this.

Educated!
If the girl is actually ashamed of her parents she has not got the A B C of education. Education is designed to make a woman more womanly, not to put her on a pedestal above her kin. That father has literally sweat blood to pay the daughter's expense; that mother has died a hundred times in agony and suspense over the girl who is ashamed of her.

BELOIT OFFICERS HAD TO USE CLUBS

On Lithuanian Revelers Yesterday—Three Notable Weddings of the Present Week.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 14.—When Officers Charles Quinlan and Fred Johnson tried to break up a gathering of 25 Lithuanians and other foreigners who were holding high revels with two dozen bottles of beer and some females in a house at the intersection of Fifth street and Roosevelt Ave., yesterday, the crowd surrounded them in a circle and it was necessary for them to fight their way out with bludgeons. Quinlan sustained a cut in the left hand which required four stitches. Frank and Joe Andrews, two of the peace disturbers, appeared in court this morning and paid fines of $10 each and costs.

Weddings This Week.
Beloit is interested in three weddings which are to occur this week. At the home of her parents on Broad street, tomorrow evening Miss Mabel Evelyn McAlpin will be married to Samuel Foster, a surveyor for a western railroad. They will make their home in Tacoma, Wash. Edward Watson, Hall of Beloit and Miss Pearl Freeman of Rockford will also be united at the home of the bride's mother in the Forest City tomorrow. Harry Grimes of the town of Avon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, and Miss Nellie Martin of Madison will take their vows Wednesday evening. Both are graduates of Beloit College, class of 1907, and the prospective groom received his degree at the Yale theological seminary last year and has accepted a charge at Wholen, Conn.

LITTLE INTEREST IN ARKANSAS ELECTION

Biennial State Election Will Result in Victory for Democratic Ticket.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 14.—Arkansas is holding its biennial state election today for state and county offices and members of the legislature. Comparatively little interest is manifested in the election, owing to the recalcitrance of voters for all of the democratic candidates. The republican vote in Arkansas never has amounted to more than 25 or 30 per cent of the total. This year the democrats expect to pull a larger vote than ever before. This expectation is based on the popularity of George W. Donaghy, the candidate for governor, and also on the fact that the democratic vote in the primary last March was the largest ever recorded in this state. The republican state ticket is headed by John I. Worthington for governor. Several of the major parties have tickets in the field but this is not expected to affect the results materially. The state election, owing to the local issues and existing conditions, is regarded as of little or no real value, and will probably forecasting the general result of the presidential contest next November.

STATE FAIR OPENS IN WEST MICHIGAN

All Departments Are Well Filled and Exhibits Are Unusually Fine.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 14.—The West Michigan state fair, which opened its gates today, eclipses in many respects all of the previous exhibitions held here. The wonderful resources and varied industries of the state are illustrated in a comprehensive manner. While all of the departments are well filled the display of livestock and of agricultural and horticultural products is especially noteworthy. If the weather continues favorable through the week it is expected the attendance will be unusually large.

Oregon Fair.
Salem, Ore., Sept. 14.—Setting a new record for the number, high quality and interesting character of its exhibits, the Oregon state fair opened today under most auspicious conditions. The fair is destined to be an agricultural exposition, the premiums being widely distributed as livestock, agricultural and manufactured products. The management will follow the same policy as last year in eliminating all of the betting features from the racing program.

GREEN COUNTY FAIR WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Receipts Amounted to $7,000, an Increase of $500 Over Last Year's Record—Other Monroe Notes.

Monroe, Wis., Sept. 14.—The receipts of the Green county fair, which closed last Saturday, were over $7,000, over $500 more than the receipts of last year which broke the record. The fair society will also receive about $1,200 state aid which is given on the per centage of premiums paid. There were over 15,000 people on the grounds Saturday, which broke the record for attendance. The track record was lowered by Bonnie Stehway, owned by A. C. Charco of Pleasanton, Cal., from 2:14 to 2:09 1/2. The horse was paced by Lewis Dodge on a motor-cycle, the event being most spectacular. The horse was cheered to the echo when he came back before the crowded amphitheatre. Joe O'ward, owned by J. M. Conway of Edgerton, was second in the 2:25 pace and Dutch A., owned by Mr. Conway, received second money in the free-for-all trot or race.

Representative dairymen from different parts of the county held a meeting here Saturday with the purpose of reviving interest in the Southern Wisconsin Cheesemakers' and Dairymen's association. The dairymen were asked to work among the patrons of the cheese factories and induce them to unite with the association at the next annual meeting.

The funeral of Mrs. Arthur Musselman, who died in Denver where she went for the benefit of her health, was held Sunday afternoon from the St. Victor's church.

Steps have been taken by the citizens of Dodgeville to organize a fair society. John Reese has headed the list with $500 and others are expected to donate large sums.

Ladies Are Delighted

With the interesting and instructive heart-to-heart talks on the making of good bread, which Miss Pursel is giving each day at our store.

We want everybody to come in and see what delicious bread she is making, and take one of the little loaves home as a souvenir.

You will never realize how easily the "Universal" Bread Maker operates or how quickly it may be cleaned until you see it in actual use, either at our store or in your own kitchen.

Four Loaf, Family Size, $2.00
Eight Loaf, Large Size, $2.50

The hands do not touch the dough. On baking day you only have one thing to wash—the pan, itself. No pans or boards, no crocks or fingers. Everything is tidy, and the bread as good as can be.

The peculiar shape of the "Universal" kneading rod enables the air to be worked into the dough, making it lighter than would be possible by hand. The dough does not stick to the sides of the machine.

After one or two trials you can get the dough just stiff enough to turn easily, and yet come out nicely when ready for the baking pans. In no other way can bread be made so quickly and easily.

MUNICIPAL COURT HAD A BUSY DAY

LEO KINGSLEY CHARGED WITH INSULTING WOMEN.

ED. COSTIGAN DISCHARGED

District Attorney Files Reasons Why He Did Not Think Costigan Could Be Convicted.

Today was a busy day in the municipal court. Leo Kingsley, who was arrested on Saturday night, was brought up charged with indecent exposure of his person on two different occasions. This together with the fact that he was sent to the Green Bay reformatory for two years for stealing brasses from launchers, will make the offense a state prison one.

Kingsley was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Officer Champion and Manning after he had insulted Miss Willis near their street as she was two years old and lived with his mother on Chatham street. He was employed at the Marshall Shoe factory. In court this morning Attorney Reeder, who appeared for him, asked for an immediate examination, but as Mr. Fisher had several other cases to try, his examination was set for later in the week and he was held under $500 bail. The examination will be behind closed doors.

Costigan Discharged.
District Attorney Fisher this morning filed with Judge Elkhorn his reasons for asking for a dismissal of Ed. Costigan, charged with resisting an officer. Mr. Fisher gave as his reasons that there was no evidence to show that Costigan was so drunk as not to be able to care for his own safety or the safety of others, which fact would have to be proved by the state. Also that the evidence, while conflicting, only showed that he had held back when arrested and that this was not resistance of an officer as contemplated by the statute and that it was not established by the evidence that Costigan struck Officer Mason. Judge Elkhorn approved of the reasons for not filing an information and Costigan was discharged.

Armstrong Case Adjourned.
The case of the State vs. Armstrong was adjourned until Friday. Armstrong, who lives in the town of Lima, is charged with chasing a man with a gun.

The State vs. Albert Swanson was dismissed. Swanson was arrested on complaint of his wife for not supporting her. He has been working since that time and on motion of the district attorney the case was dismissed.

Blum in Trouble.
Ernest Blum, commonly known as "Moesto," was arrested yesterday afternoon about six o'clock. A telephone message to the police said that he had been insulting two girls near the Monterey bridge. The officers immediately went to the spot and found Blum just beyond the Monterey bridge. He was brought up in court this afternoon and charged with indecent exposure of his person. This together with the fact that he has already served a term makes yesterday's alleged offense a state prison act. His examination was set for tomorrow afternoon and will be behind closed doors.

JAMES SCOTT HIT BY RAILROAD TRAIN

Found Lying by Track Between Five Points and Academy Street.

James Scott, a stranger here, was found Saturday night about 6:50 lying by the track near the old St. Paul passenger depot with a cut on his head and suffering from severe bruises. Yardmaster Kelly of the St. Paul road discovered the man as he was passing by and summoned the ambulance to take the man to the hospital.

On examination Dr. Pember found the man had a cut on his head and severe bruises. Today he was much better and was able to leave the hospital.

Just what train struck Scott is not known. The North-Western train and the St. Paul train from Chicago had both just pulled out and switch engines were also working about there. None of the engineers knew that they had hit anyone and Scott himself says that he was walking toward the depot and did not see any train approaching him.

A. C. KENT DIED THIS AFTERNOON

AFTER ILLNESS EXTENDING OVER PERIOD OF EIGHT MONTHS.

PROMINENT MANUFACTURER

Inventor, Soldier, and Citizen Who Occupied a High Place in Estimation of Fellowmen.

This afternoon, at a quarter of two, Arthur Cartwell Kent, a well-known citizen and former manufacturer of this city, died at his home in the Kent flats on South Main street. He had been sick for the past eight months, was seventy-one years of age, and had resided in Janesville for sixty-two years.

The deceased was born Sept. 1, 1837, in Canada on the line between that country and the state of New York.

At the beginning of the Civil War he came north from Lexington, Kentucky, and located in Janesville, entering as a private in Company E, 3d Wisconsin Cavalry, in 1861, and serving in that regiment until June, 1862, when he resigned. At the time of his resignation from the cavalry he had risen to the position of First Lieutenant.

On his return here he engaged in business, and finally, securing a patent on his corn-planter, began his manufacture. He added other specialties to his line and built up a good business, but sold out a few years ago to C. C. MacLennan.

He was united in marriage Oct. 23, 1866, to Miss Hannah Liddle, who still survives him. Three children were born, none of whom are living. Mr. Kent was a member of the Episcopal church and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

Don't miss the big harvest dance at Assembly hall Wednesday, Sept. 16. Everybody welcome.

FORTY YEARS AGO

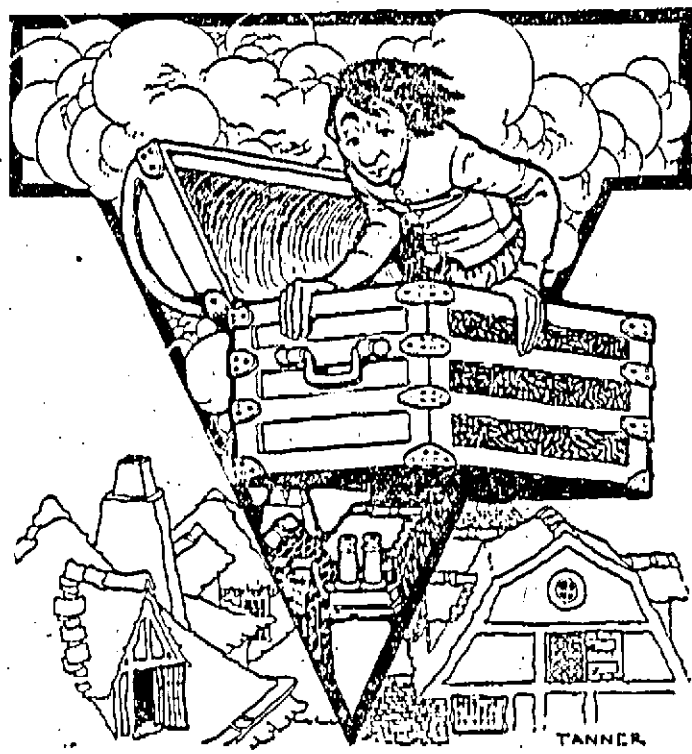

Janesville Daily Gazette, Sept. 14, 1868.—Washington Steam Fire Engine Company No. 1.—The members of the fire department met at number three's house on Saturday evening, for the purpose of christening their steamer, which they did by calling it Washington. A good supper was served, and speeches were made by Messrs. O. Brooks, A. M. Graham, John R. Hodson, C. T. Webber, James Clark, John C. Spencer, H. Hemming, Randall Williams, Wm. Hodson and W. A. Eager, all of whom counseled harmony and unity of feeling and action in the department. Three times three, with a cheer for the new name were given and at a late hour all went home well pleased with the entertainment, nothing transpiring to mar the occasion in the least.

Sunday House-breaking.—Yesterday the house of Peter Hall on Main street was entered while the family were gone to church and part of a winter suit of clothes, besides various other articles, were taken. The villain cut the putty from around a light of glass which he removed, then tore off the window stop, and pushed the lower sash in. The house was completely ransacked, and almost everything was in a disordered condition. The clothing was in a trunk and chests and bureau drawers were turned topsy-turvy. It is evident, from the way he left things, that he made a hasty retreat.

A Wonderful feat in Railroading.—A Run of Ninety One Miles in Ninety Minutes.—One of the most remarkable railroad feats on record was accomplished on the Chicago and Northwestern railway on Saturday last. A special train consisting of an engine, tender, baggage car and a director's car, having a number on board, left in the morning from Fort Howard, for Chicago. From Fort Howard to Janesville the time made was decidedly lively, but from here to Chicago it was truly wonderful. In fact, we know of nothing that ever beat it considering the distance and the weight of the train. The quickest time was a mile in 52 seconds and the most time consumed was in running a mile in 61 seconds.

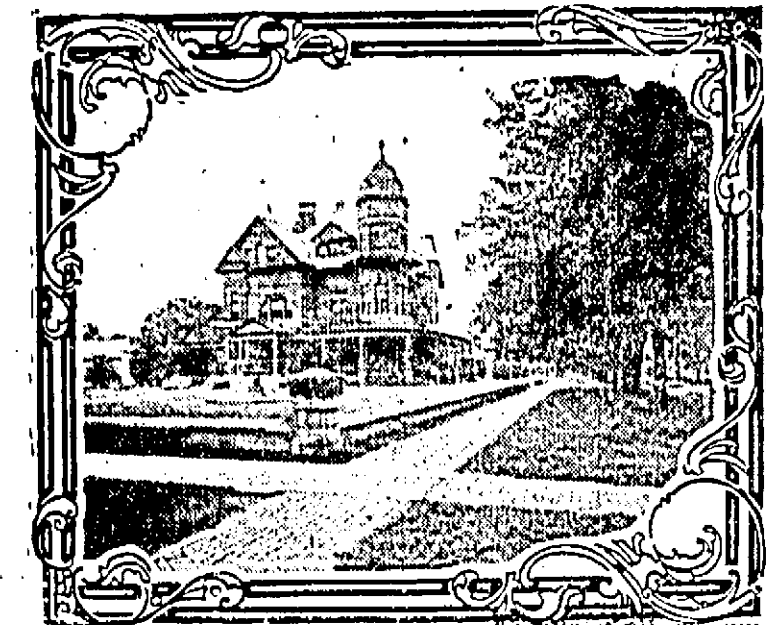

A Terrible Earthquake.—The most frightful earthquake ever recorded, took place in Peru, South America, on the 13th of August. Over fifty thousand persons are known to have perished by this terrible calamity, while more than three hundred thousand more are without food or shelter. A dreadful epidemic has broken out in consequence of the stench arising from the unburied bodies. It is probably the most destructive earthquake ever known.

LITTLE JOURNEYS TO THE SUMMER HOMES OF PROMINENT MEN.

While he isn't at Marion, Kan., running his country weekly newspaper, or out on the lecture platform, Gov. Ed. Ward Wallis (of Kansas) is in Topeka attending to his work as governor. He occupies the executive mansion, which was bought by the city of Topeka and given to the state from private persons some years ago, at a cost of about $30,000. It is a large, roomy brick house, situated in the fashionable district of the city.

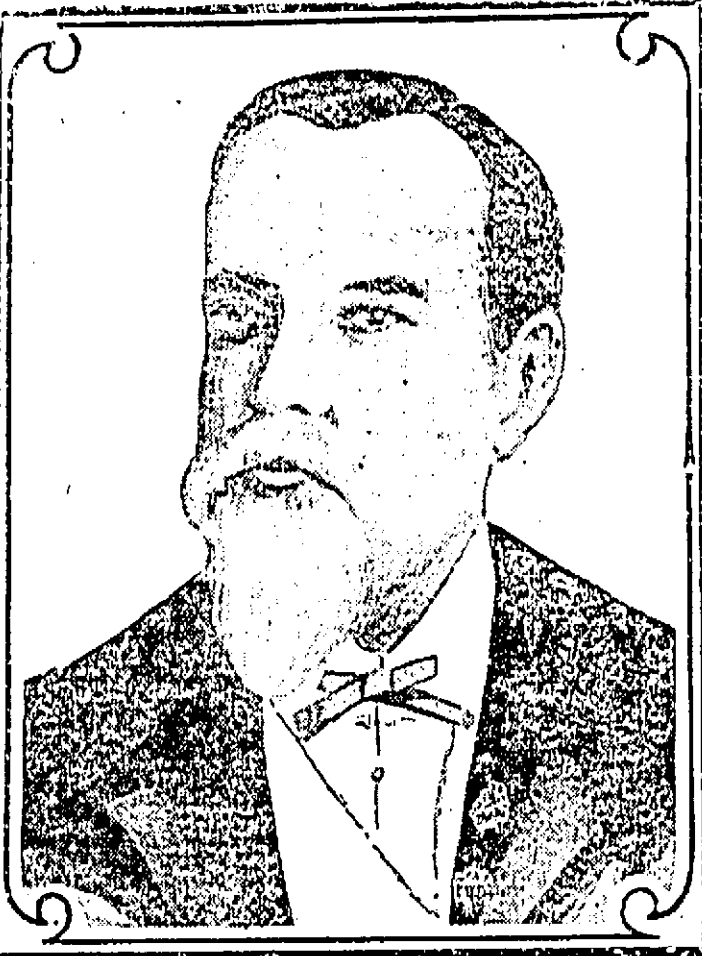

The furnishings are in keeping with the house, and of course, the scene of numerous state social functions. Governor Hoch's daughters, Miss Anna and Miss Edna Hoch, and his younger son Wallis are at home, and in the executive mansion lives also the older son of the family, Homer Hoch, and his wife, Homer Hoch is private secretary to the governor. There is no other residence which the governor of the state occupies during his official residence.

There is an interesting feature in connection with the surroundings of the executive mansion. Nick Chiles, a leading negro editor of the midwest west, occupies a residence diagonally opposite to the home of the governor. Within the last six months, wealthy colored people have bought property in the midst of this exclusive white section.

Governor Hoch enjoys home life greatly. Although away a good deal of the time, still he spends as much time as possible with his family at the executive mansion, and enjoys it keenly.

Report on Beet Sugar Industry. Washington, Sept. 14.—The department of agriculture has just published the report of Special Agent Saylor upon the progress of the beet sugar industry in the United States for the last calendar year. Mr. Saylor reports that the outlook for extending the industry continues bright and that the close of the year indicates that business interests are more united than ever in the manufacture, refining and distribution of home sugar production.

PRESIDENT ALFARO OF ECUADOR.

Guayaquil.—Surrounded by his friends, President Alfaro of Ecuador is gradually sinking, and only a few days at the most remain on this earth for the head of our sister republic. The president has suffered from heart trouble for some time. He came to Guayaquil Monday in the hope of benefiting by the climate of the coast, a decided change from the interior. His physicians extend no hope whatever for his recovery, for his attack is of such a nature that it is feared he will be unable to return to Quito and resume his executive duties.

Dressing the Chicken. One evening on the farm a little shrew child was enjoying the first glimpse of pastoral life. On a little slope he sat, under a tree, bent with the load of ripe peaches, beside the creek, who was plucking a chicken. He watched that plucking operation gravely for some time. Then he said: "Do you take off their clothes every night, lady?"

Cato's Refrain. It was Cato who always ended every speech he made in the Roman senate with the words, "Delenda est Carthago." "Carthage must be destroyed." It made no difference what subject he was discussing, Cato always used this warning, claiming that the safety of the Roman empire depended on the destruction of his rival across the Mediterranean.

TAPPING THE GUNNISON CANYON.

Engineering Enterprise Which Will Transform Colorado Desert.

The most spectacular engineering enterprise ever undertaken by the government is now on the point of completion, says the Technical World Magazine. Carried through under most extraordinary and unprecedented difficulties, its success is already absolutely assured, and as a result of the achievement, 150,000 acres, or about 235 square miles, of desert in southwestern Colorado will soon be transformed into a blooming garden.

The principal feature of the enterprise in question was the boring of a great hole through the base of a mountain range six miles thick and a half-mile high, the object in view being to provide in this manner a conduit for the carrying of a river across to the other side of the range, in order that it might irrigate and render fruitful a desert valley.

The river concerned is the Gunnison—a rapid and turbulent stream which flows through the canyon of the same name, otherwise known as the Black canyon. This canyon is perhaps the most formidable and impassable in all the west. It is a huge gash, cut as with a mighty knife through the landscape, and with walls which for the greater part of its length are almost vertical. Every hundred yards or so, along its bottom, the passage of the stream is obstructed by a cataract. So far as known, up to the time of the reconnaissance by government engineers four years ago, nobody ever entered the gorge and came out alive.

With a Sting. The French are undoubtedly a humorous and humor-loving people; only, sometimes, this bitterness, of-forgiveness quality goes astray. Instead of the sparkle in the glass of champagne, it turns, by some subtle chemistry, into an acid sort of drink, which leaves a disagreeable taste in the mouth.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Olive Oil Culture. Owing to the strict government inspection, practically all Italian export olive oil is pure and leaving Italy. For home consumption there is hardly a sufficiency, from year to year, necessitating large imports of cotton-seed oil from America; and this has induced the government to take special action toward the improvement of olive culture.

herit also the traditions of your civil and political freedom. The Great Charter of Liberty, which Cardinal Langton of Canterbury and the English barons secured from King John, on the plains of Runnymede, is the basis of our constitutional liberties. We share with you in the fruit of your victories.

"We have not only a common heritage of civil and political freedom, but we also speak the same language—the language of Homer and Shakespeare, of Pope and Dryden, of Tennyson and Newman. The steady growth of the English-speaking church, during the last three centuries, is truly gratifying, and may be considered phenomenal. At the Council of Trent, held in the sixteenth century, there were present only four bishops who spoke our tongue; one came from England, and three from Ireland. Scotland was not represented. The American continent had but recently been discovered and Australasia was a terra incognita. There are now upwards of two hundred bishops ruling dioceses where English is the prevailing language. An English-speaking hierarchy is established in England, Ireland and Scotland, the United States and Canada, the East Indies and Australasia. And should another Eumenidean Council be held during the present century, there is no doubt that every division of our globe would be largely represented by English-speaking prelates professing the ancient faith, and paying spiritual allegiance to the Sovereign Pontiff of Rome.

Great Exponents of Religion.

"The church in the United States has another bond of union with the church in Great Britain, and that is your Catholic literature. Not to mention the classic writers of England, whose domain is as wide as the British Empire, the Catholic authors who flourished among you in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries are household names among us. Our clergy and educated laity are almost as familiar as you are, with the writings of Bishop Challoner, Dr. Milner, of Albi, Butler and Dr. Lugard, of Father Faber and Father Coleridge, and of the three illustrious Cardinals who have shed an unending lustre in the church in England by their literary labors as well as by their apostolic lives. I refer to the immortal triumvir, Wiseman, Newman and Manning.

Governments Similar.

"We have not only the same language and literature, but we live under practically the same system of government, you are ruled by a constitutional monarchy; we are ruled by a constitutional republic. The head of our nation is the President; the head of your nation is the King; whose long and prosperous reign will be over memorable in the annals of England, and whose domestic virtues communicated the veneration of love of her subjects, and the admiration of the civilized world. Though the forms of government differ in name, they are the same in their practical results. We both enjoy the inestimable blessings of civil and religious liberty. Our respective governments hold over us the same of their protection without interfering with us in the exercise of our sacred functions.

Opportunities of Empire.

"I need not dwell on the vast extent of the British territory, which comprises about ten millions of square miles, or about one-fifth of the surface of the globe. The old Roman Empire was colossal in proportions, it extended into Europe as far as the river Danube, into Africa as far as Mauritania, and into Asia as far as the Tigris and Euphrates. Yet, the Roman Empire formed scarcely a sixth part of the dimensions of the British dominions.

"Oh, my brethren of England, what a vast field is open to your zeal and activity. May your missionary sons be endowed with the apostolic spirit of Augustine, Winifred and Patrick. May they succeed in preaching the Gospel wherever England establishes her laws. May they be as zealous in conquering souls as British statesmen are in acquiring territory. May they extend the Kingdom of Christ wherever England enlarges her temporal dominion, may they erect a house of prayer wherever she builds a fort, and may they determine to plant the cross, the symbol of salvation, side by side with the banner of St. George.

Irish Exiles in America.

"And may American courage in holy emulation with England in spreading the Gospel of peace and the blessings of Christian civilization, and may uprisings spring forth in our country, to carry the faith into every region wherever float the stars and stripes.

"I am sure that you will agree with me, that the sister has done her duty in the cause of Catholic missionary labor. Whatever have been the unhappy causes that have led to the emigration of so many of Ireland's sons and daughters from their native soil, Almighty God has made their exile subservient to higher and nobler purposes. I can safely say that there is scarcely a city or town in the United States or Australia, where the Catholic religion has not been proclaimed by priests and supported by laymen of Irish birth or parentage.

The Early Missionaries.

"There is another country across the channel, which has set an example of noble zeal to England and America. At the close of the eighteenth century, many of the noblest clergy of France, driven from their native land by the storm of the French revolution, sought refuge in England, where they were graciously received, and hospitably entertained. And it is well known how they endeavored themselves to the English people by their refined manners and gentle Christian deportment, as well as by their apostolic zeal and the edifying example of their private lives. For three centuries after the discovery of the American continent, heroic missionaries from Catholic France were laboring in evangelizing the aboriginal tribes of North America, traversing the country always at the risk, and often at the sacrifice of their lives. And, as a result of their labor, there are few Indian tribes today in the United States or Canada that do not know and venerate the black robes.

"If those heroic men accomplished so much when they had no boats but frail canoes, no roads but eternal snows and virgin forests and desert wastes, no compass but the naked eye, no guide save faith and hope and God, how much more will your concentrated souls be able to effect by means of railroads and steamships and other appliances of modern civilization?

"And as an additional incentive to stimulate your pious enthusiasm, and to arouse your zeal in diffusing around you the blessings of Christian faith, our Holy Father, Leo XIII., of happy memory, sets forth, in glowing terms, the golden opportunities that lie before you. He portrays in luminous language the noble character of your countrymen. As Gregory the Great was drawn towards the enslaved Angles in Rome by the consciousness of their countenance, so is Leo attracted towards the free and enlightened Britons by their elevated qualities of mind and heart.

"In his apostolic letter of 1895, he enlarges on the distinguishing traits of the English people. He admires your candor, your sense of justice and humanity. He praises your social virtues and your successful efforts in uplifting the poor and the working classes; your munificence in founding institutions for decrepit old age and abandoned youth; in building hospitals for the alleviation of every form of suffering humanity; and in the establishment of houses of correction and reformation for the criminal and depraved. He dwells on your commercial enterprise and activity, extending over the civilized world the good order and stability of your government; the respect for religion and for the Christian Sabbath, and the veneration in which the sacred scriptures are held throughout the land.

"If to the blessings just enumerated we add the unbounded unity in Christian belief, this land of ever good fellowship would, in the judgment of the Holy Father, largely contribute to the peace and happiness of domestic life, and to the strength and security of the British empire at home and abroad.

"Gregory Speaks Through Leo. Yes, my brethren, Gregory still speaks through Leo. The same zeal that Gregory exhibited at the close of the sixth century for England's conversion, Leo displays at the close of the nineteenth century for the restoration and development of the Catholic religion in your beloved country.

"And the same homage and filial reverence that Augustine paid to Gregory, your prelates render to this, our reigning pontiff. They recognize the same divinely appointed principles of authority, and are guided and cheered by the same voice that spoke to your first great apostle.

After a Hundred Years

"On this red letter day, which marks a new epoch in the history of the Catholic church in England, it would be interesting and instructive, if I had the time, to form a comparison between the present condition of the English church and her situation at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

"The great religious revolution of the sixteenth century had spread like a tornado over northern Europe. More than half of Germany adopted the teachings of its new apostle, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and all Scandinavia, followed in the same path. Calvinism in the sixteenth century, and Unitarianism in the eighteenth, had wrought such havoc in France, that twice the fate of that great Catholic nation trembled in the balance. Ireland, alone, of all the nations of the north, remained loyal to the ancient creed, England and Scotland broke off their allegiance to the Holy See.

"At the close of the eighteenth century, the church in England had not yet recovered from the shock of the great upheaval. Her children averted their course in the back of being under roofed sails, not knowing what the abating storm might be renewed with increased violence. The spiritual administration of the whole island was confined to four vicars apostolic. They were aided by about one hundred and twenty priests, scattered up and down the country. A few modest chapels, which could not be dignified with the name of Christian temples, were established here and there, and chiefly in the great commercial centers; and the entire Catholic population was estimated by Dr. Milner at 70,000.

"We see, today, a hierarchy composed of an archbishop with fifteen suffragans, three thousand priests, ministering to a Catholic population of one million and a half.

"This consoling result is due, under God, to the zeal of the bishops and clergy, and to the generous cooperation of the laity.

"Oh, what a change has come over the face of this city since the death of Bishop Challoner, one hundred and twenty-seven years ago. So ardent and oppressive were the religious restrictions in his day, that he was obliged to observe the utmost circumspection in breaking the bread of life and dispersing the word of God to his scattered flock. His latter days were embittered by beholding his chapels ruthlessly destroyed by a mob in the Lord George Gordon riots. He could almost literally say with the Prophet Isaiah: 'With zeal have I been zealous for the Lord of Hosts, because the children of Israel have forsaken Thy covenant, they have destroyed Thy altars; they have slain Thy prophets with the sword, and I alone am left, and they seek my life, to take it away.'—(III. IC, XIX.)

"If his venerable form were, to appear before us today, he would behold this august temple radiant with all the splendor of our ceremonial, and the enthusiastic joy of the Catholic nobility, gentry, and people of Great Britain and Ireland, and with the benignant interest of our separated brethren and the great organs of public opinion."

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT FIRST SESSION

United Association of Journeymen Plumbers Opens at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 14.—The sixteenth annual convention of the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers met in this city today with an attendance of between 700 and 800 delegates, President John R. Alpine of Chicago called the convention to order. Routine business occupied the initial session. The convention will continue for ten days or two weeks.

A number of important letters are to be discussed by the convention, including the apprenticeship system and the matter of proper sanitary laws in large cities. The reports of the officers show that the association now has about 500 local unions and an aggregate membership of nearly 70,000.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN GATHER IN COLUMBUS

750 Lodges Are Represented by Over a Thousand Delegates.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—Nearly 1,000 delegates filled Memorial hall today at the opening of the biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, one of the strongest labor organizations in America. About 750 local lodges scattered throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico are represented by the delegates. One of the first acts of the convention will be to adopt resolutions in memory of the late Frank P. Sargent, who was the grand master of the brotherhood for nearly twenty years. Had he lived it is probable that Mr. Sargent would have been chosen again to head the order by the present convention. The consideration of reports covering the past two years and the transaction of a large amount of other business relating to the affairs of the order will keep the convention busy for three or four weeks. New officers will be elected and a place selected for holding the next biennial convention. Rochester is a prominent bidder for it.

STYLE IN COFFEE

Possibly coffee has been sold to you because the berry looked exceedingly nice, or because the berries were uniform in size, or for some other reason pertaining to the looks of the berry. Notwithstanding all statements to the contrary, this is a wrong basis upon which to judge coffee. Experts in the coffee business judge coffee by its "Cup Quality," which means, the quality of the coffee in the cup ready to serve. That is the way Golden Blend is bought and blended. I never claimed style for Golden Blend. It has not got style, and it don't need style to be good. With any housewife in Janesville, her coffee is either good or bad according to its taste. Nine-tenths of all the people like about the same standard of coffee. That standard of coffee is exactly what Golden Blend was made to be. That it is a success is attested to by the fact that twenty per cent of my present customers have used it for the past six years, and that at least one-fourth of all the homes in Janesville use Golden Blend.

While I sit here preparing this ad, Mrs. Blank's little girl is at the counter buying Golden Blend, which is to be shipped to Mrs. Smith, who now lives in Milwaukee. (I will furnish the right names to anybody interested, upon request.) Mrs. Smith used to live in Janesville and tried Golden Blend Coffee. When she moved away she could not find a coffee that suited her, even if she paid 10c more per pound, so she has asked Mrs. Blank to send it to her.

Golden Blend is all we claim for it and more, and is a coffee that is not equaled at the price.
